PREFACE.

UNDER a scheme which was sanctioned by Government in 1899 the books of reference for use by Revenue Officers will, in future, be—

- (1) The Punjab Land Administration Acts and Rules under each.
- (2) The Punjab Land Administration Manual.
- (3) The Punjab Settlement Manual.
- (4) The Standing Orders of the Financial Commissioners.

2. The Punjab Settlement Manual issued originally in 1899 and a revised edition was printed in 1909. A third edition was issued in 1914 and the fourth in 1930. The Punjab Land Administration Manual was issued during 1909 and a revised edition was printed in 1931.

3. The old revenue rules have now been revised, and such of them as were obsolete or need not have the power of law have been cut out. In this connection see Financial Commissioner's Notification No. 61, dated the 18th March 1910. The residue have been printed separately as rules or Government notifications under the Land Revenue or Tenancy Act, respectively, in the volumes of Punjab Land Administration Acts; in which have been included all the Acts of general reference required by Revenue Officers.

4. At the same time the revenue circulars have been overhauled and re-arranged as standing orders of the Financial Commissioners, which now include all the instructions given in the present revenue rules and revenue circulars which do not find a place in the new rules or in the notifications under the Punjab Land Revenue and Tenancy Acts or in the Punjab Settlement and Land Administration Manuals. A standing order on Land Alienation has been added. In the process of re-arrangement it has been found advisable to amend in some instances the previous instructions.

5. A reference table showing where the paragraphs of the Revised Revenue Circulars and each of the old Revenue Rules are now to be found is printed with the Standing Orders of the Financial Commissioners.

6. The Acts are printed as amended up to the end of March 1933. References to amending Acts are given in antique type in the margin except where a footnote is given for greater clearness.

26th April 1933.

*REGULATION XI OF 1825

Dated 26th May, 1825

As amended by—

PUNJAB ACT I OF 1899

ACT I OF 1903

A REGULATION FOR DECLARING THE RULES TO BE OBSERVED IN DETERMINING CLAIMS TO LANDS GAINED BY ALLUVION, OR BY DERELICTION OF A RIVER OR THE SEA

1. In consequence of the frequent changes which take place Preamble in the channel of the principal rivers that intersect the provinces immediately subject to the Presidency of Fort William, and the shifting of the sands which lie in the beds of those rivers, chars or small islands are often thrown up by alluvion in the midst of the stream, or near one of the banks, and large portions of land are carried away by and encroachment of the river on one side, whilst accessions of land are at the same time, or in subsequent years, gained by dereliction of the water on the opposite side, similar instances of alluvion, encroachment and dereliction also sometimes occur on the sea coast which borders the southern and south eastern limits of Bengal

The lands gained from the rivers or sea by the means above-mentioned are a frequent source of contention and affray, and although the law and custom of the country have established rules applicable to such cases, these rules not being generally known, the Courts of Justice have sometimes found it difficult to determine the rights of litigant parties claiming chars or other lands gained in the manner above described

The Court of Sadr Diwani Adalat, with a view to ascertain the legal provisions of the Muhammadan and Hindu laws on the subject called for reports from their law-officers, of each persuasion, and on consideration of the reports furnished by the law officers in consequence, as well as of the decisions which have been passed by the Court of Sadr Diwani Adalat in cases brought before them in appeal which involved the rights of claimants to lands gained by alluvion, or by dereliction of rivers or the sea, the Governor General in Council has deemed it proper to enact the following rules for the general information of individuals as well as for the guidance of the Courts of Judicature, to be in force as soon as promulgated throughout the whole of the provinces subject to the Presidency of Fort William

* The whole of the Reg. XI of 1825 was declared to be in force in the Punjab by the Punjab Laws Act 1892 (IV of 1872) s. 3 and Sch. I

PUNJAB ACT I OF 1839.

ACT I OF 1903

A REGULATION FOR DECLARING THE RULES TO BE OBSERVED IN DETERMINING CLAIMS TO LANDS GAINED BY ALLUVION, OR BY DERELICTION OF A RIVER OR THE SEA

1. In consequence of the frequent changes which take place in the channel of the principal rivers that intersect the provinces immediately subject to the Presidency of Fort William, and the shifting of the sands which lie in the beds of those rivers, chars or small islands are often thrown up by alluvion in the midst of the stream, or near one of the banks, and large portions of land are carried away by and encroachment of the river on one side, whilst accessions of land are at the same time, or in subsequent years, gained by dereliction of the water on the opposite side, similar instances of alluvion, encroachment and dereliction also sometimes occur on the sea-coast which borders the southern and south-eastern limits of Bengal

The lands gained from the rivers or sea by the means above-mentioned are a frequent source of contention and affray, and although the law and custom of the country have established rules applicable to such cases, these rules not being generally known, the Courts of Justice have sometimes found it difficult to determine the rights of litigant parties claiming chars or other lands gained in the manner above described

The Court of Sadr Diwani Adalat, with a view to ascertain the legal provisions of the Muhammadan and Hindu laws on the subject called for reports from their law-officers, of each persuasion, and on consideration of the reports furnished by the law-officers in consequence, as well as of the decisions which have been passed by the Court of Sadr Diwani Adalat in cases brought before them in appeal which involved the rights of claimants to lands gained by alluvion, or by dereliction of rivers or the sea, the Governor-General in Council has deemed it proper to enact the following rules for the general information of individuals as well as for the guidance of the Courts of Judicature; to be in force, as soon as promulgated throughout the whole of the provinces subject to the Presidency of Fort William

* The whole of the Reg. XI of 1825 was declared to be in force in the Punjab by the Punjab Laws Act, 1872 (IV of 1872) s. 3 and Sch. I

Short title "The Bengal Alluvion and Diluvion Regulation, 1825," see the Repealing and Amending Act, 1899 (V of 1897)

Claims and disputes as to alluvial lands to be decided by usage when clearly recognized and established

2. Whenever any clear and definite usage of shikast parast respecting the disjunction and junction of land by the encroachment or recess of a river, may have been immemorially established, for determining the rights of the proprietors of two or more contiguous estates divided by a river (such as that the main channel of the river dividing the estate shall be the constant boundary between them, whatever changes may take place in the course of the river, by encroachment on one side and accession on the other), the usage so established shall,¹ [unless and until a boundary is fixed under the provisions of section 101-A of the Punjab Land Revenue Act, 1887, as amended by the Punjab Riverain Boundaries Act 1899,] govern the decision of all claims and disputes relative to alluvial land between the parties whose estates may be liable to such usage

Where no usage established, claims how decided

3. Where² [no boundary has been fixed under the provisions of section 101 A of the Punjab Land Revenue Act, 1887, as amended by the Punjab Riverain Boundaries Act 1899 and] there may be no local usage of the nature referred to in the preceding section, the general rules declared in the following section shall be applied to the determination of all claims and disputes relative to lands gained by alluvion or dereliction either of a river or the sea

Land gained by gradual accession from recess of river or sea

4. First—When land may be gained by gradual accession, whether from the recess of a river or of the sea it shall be considered an increment to the tenure of the person to whose land or estate it is thus annexed, whether such land or estate be held immediately from Government by a zamindar or other superior land holder, or as a subordinate tenure, by any description of under-tenant whatever

Extent of interest in increment of person in possession.

Provided that the increment of land thus obtained shall not entitle the person in possession of the estate or tenure to which the land may be annexed to a right of property or permanent interest therein beyond that possessed by him in the estate or tenure to which the land may be annexed, and shall not in any case be understood to exempt the holder of it from the payment to Government of any assessment for the public revenue to which it may be liable under the provisions of Regulation II 1919 or of any other Regulation in force

When river by sudden change of course intersects estates

Second—The above rule shall not be considered applicable to cases in which a river, by a sudden change of its course, may break through and intersect an estate without any gradual encroachment or may by the violence of stream separate a considerable piece of land from one estate and join it to another estate without destroying the identity, and preventing the recognition of the land so removed

In such cases the land, on being clearly recognized, shall remain the property of its original owner

¹ These words were inserted by the Punjab Riverain Boundaries Act 1899 (I of 1899)

Third—When a char or island may be thrown up in a large navigable river (the bed of which is not the property of an individual), or in the sea, and the channel of the river or sea between such island and the shore may not be fordable, it shall, according to established usage, be at the disposal of ~~Government~~ Government ^{Chars or Islands thrown up in navigable river}

But if the channel between such island and the shore be fordable at any season of the year, it shall be considered an accession to the land, tenure or tenures of the person or persons whose estate or estates may be most contiguous to it, subject to the several provisions specified in the first clause of this section, with respect to increment of land by gradual accession ^{Property therein when channel fordable}

Fourth—In small and shallow rivers, the beds of which, with the jalkar right of fishery, may have been heretofore recognized as the property of individuals, any sand-bank or char that may be thrown up shall, as hitherto, belong to the proprietor of the bed of the river, subject to the provisions stated in the first clause of the present section ^{Sand banks or chars thrown up in small shallow rivers}
